

Tomorrow

When tomorrow starts without me,
please try to understand,
That Jesus came and called my name
and took me by the hand.
And when I walked through heaven's gates, I felt so much at home.
When God looked down and smiled at me,
from His golden throne.
He said, "This is eternity and all I've promised you.
Today your life on earth is past and here it starts anew.
I promise no tomorrows,
but today will always last,
And since each day's the same,
there's no longing for the past.
You have been faithful,
so trusting and true,
Though there were times you did some things you knew you shouldn't do.
But you have been forgiven,
and now at last you're free,
So won't you take my hand and share My life with me?"
So when tomorrow starts without me,
don't think we're far apart,
For every time you think of me,
I'm right here in your heart.

In Loving Memory Of

Jason Robert Lynch

January 24, 1982 - March 22, 2018

Jason was born to Dennis Robert Lynch and Kathleen (Hauge) Lynch on January 24, 1982 in Williston, North Dakota. He was raised in the Ray/Wheelock area. As a teen, Jason grew to love Elvis Presley music, especially his gospel music. He even dyed his hair black and did an Elvis impersonation at a school after prom party. Jason also liked to listen to county music, watch movies, the Harry Potter series was his favorite, and read the Bible. He loved going fishing, and was an avid fan of WWE Wrestling.

Jason spent some summers as a teen working as an assistant to the janitor at Ray School, and spent one summer helping his grandfather, Clyde shingle his home.

Jason is survived by his mother, sisters Alicia Lynch and Jessica (Travis) Lynch all of Williston, brother Brian Lynch of Wheelock, nieces Alexis, Hailey, and Riley, nephew Brody, and many aunts uncles and cousins living in various states.

Jason is preceded in death by one infant brother, Wesley; his father, and his maternal and paternal grandparents.
